

“Diverse Voices for Change” Participation Form

“I am engendered by hope as I reflect on the socio-political timing of this initiative. I think, our Municipality is poised to be a leader regionally and nationally in a concerted strategy focused on moving from the politics of exclusion into the practice of inclusion. In order for this initiative to be meaningful locally and effective we will need to be willing to go deep into our reflective memory. Over the next few years, we can use DVC as a practical community engagement tool to challenge us to be more reflective on how we have worked in the past towards being an inclusive community. I also hope, that by the end of DVC term, we as decision makers in the community would have allowed the emergent opportunities to steer us ahead in the next phase of defining who we need to be. I hope we will be an aware community that values the nature of diversity and its benefits to our cultural and economic milieu.”

– Councillor Kirlew on “Diverse Voices for Change” Initiative.
